Product Return Form

Please use this form when requesting a refund of your purchase from Breakout Futures. All returns require the submission of this form, regardless of whether the original purchase included the physical delivery of materials, such as a software CD or user's guide. If physical goods were delivered, the goods must be returned to Breakout Futures at the address listed above. All materials, including this form, must be returned to Breakout Futures within 30 days from the date of purchase to receive a refund. If no physical goods were delivered, complete this form and either mail or fax it to Breakout Futures at the address above.

By signing this form, you agree that:

- Your license to use the product indicated below ends when your refund has been processed. You may not transfer the license to anyone else or sell or give copies of the product to anyone.
- You have destroyed all copies of the product in your possession (aside from any physical copies returned to Breakout Futures), including all copies on all computers on which the software has been installed. This destruction includes any user's guides, EasyLanguage files, and any other files included with the installation or with subsequent updates.
